YOU CAN NOW HAVE CHRISTMAS DINNER AT HOGWARTS

- 1 The Christmas dinners in the Harry Potter books and movies were always magical and delicious-looking. And 2 now you don't have to suffer through the Potions class to enjoy them yourself. For the first time ever, the Warner
3 Brothers studio tour in London is offering a fancy dinner in its own reconstructed Hogwarts.
4 On December 3, guests will have dinner surrounded by the original decoration from Harry Potter and the
5 Sorcerer's Stone, and each person will get their own wand at their table. According to CNN, the menu includes ham,
6 roast turkey, and veggie options like lasagna and fruit salad.
7 After dinner, guests will head to Platform 9  $\frac{3}{4}$  for dessert, and to a nearby cafe for drinks. Then, the wizarding
8 world will transform into a dance party for the rest of the night. The ticket price might require breaking into Gringotts
9 Bank, though, as each seat costs £230 ($349). Hogwarts might be free for students, but not for visitors.
10 Sadly, the event sold out nearly immediately due to "overwhelming demand," but that doesn't mean you have to 11 miss it. The studios will be completely decorated with Christmas ornaments for its "Hogwarts in the Snow" event from 12 November 13 to January 31. If you visit then, you can see the Great Hall, the Gryffindor common room, and the 13 outside of Hogwarts castle in full holiday cheer.
14 Do you live in the States? The Universal Studios theme parks, which have entire sections dedicated to Harry 15 Potter, will be holding a celebration from January 29 to 31—and it'll be far warmer there than in England. We know
16 what we're putting at the top of our holiday wish lists this year!

PARENTS' REACTIONS TO TEEN ROMANCE

- 1 Adults usually underestimate the impact of the loss of a first love. They may have forgotten what a shock it was
- 2 when they lost their own first loves. They may even try to comfort teenagers with optimistic lessons: a surprising
- 3 number of young men and women bitterly complain about parents who joke, "Don't worry! Boyfriends/girlfriends are
- 4 like buses... a new one comes along every ten minutes!" This is not helpful, and it is not funny. The loss of a first love
- 5 can be devastating to some teenagers.
- 6 The pain of the breakup will decrease with time, but the love may stay repressed and dormant for decades. While
- 7 most men and women find satisfying partners after first love breakups, there are adults who spend their married
- 8 years aware that "something is missing." They continue to think about their lost first loves. Perhaps if they had
- 9 married their first loves when they were younger, they tell me, they could have formed lasting and satisfying
- 10 marriages, but they will never know. These romances were interrupted—often by their parents' interference.
- 11 In a recent study of 1,600 people aged 18 to 92 who had never tried a reunion with a lost love, 56% of the
- 12 participants said they would not want to go back to their first loves, 19% were not sure—but 25% said they would!
- 13 Even the adults who had no current interest in their first loves, including those who had only bitter memories,
- 14 revealed that these early romances influenced their life-long attitudes about love, and even about themselves.
